F1 Gets the help screen

The screenshot shows the ACBLscore software interface. The main window displays game details for Section A: Saturday, including the number of tables (5), boards in play (25), and scoring method (Masterpoint). A help window is open, showing the 'Printer Configuration' screen. The help window has a navigation bar with 'Hide', 'Back', 'Forward', 'Home', 'Print', and 'Options'. The 'Contents' pane on the left lists various help topics, with 'Printer Configuration' selected under the 'Setup' category. The main text area of the help window provides instructions on how to configure the printer.
